- recording and monitoring tools that we use for compliance or security purposes (e.g. recording of telephone calls, monitoring emails, etc.).

3. How we use your information

Our primary purpose in collecting your personal information is facilitate the holding of shares in Company, the management and administration of your holdings in the Company and any related administration on an on-going basis.

Additionally, we use your information for the following specific purposes:

- to process transactions and to improve the quality of the service that we provide to you;
- to disclose information to other third parties such as service providers of the Company, auditors, regulatory authorities and technology providers (as set out in more detail below)
- to communicate with you as necessary in connection with the proper running of the Fund;
- to update and maintain records and carry out fee calculations;
- to monitor and record calls and electronic communications;
- in connection with the Company's internal management and reporting;

- to report regulatory and tax related information to regulatory and tax authorities in order to comply with a legal obligation, including any obligation arising under legislation implementing the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act of 2010, as amended, and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's Common Reporting Standard;
- to permit, administer and record your investment in the Company;
- verifying the identity of the prospective investor to comply with statutory and regulatory requirements in relation to anti-money laundering procedures;
- in order to carry out anti-money laundering checks and related actions which are necessary to comply with legal obligations, in relation to, the prevention of fraud, money laundering, terrorist financing, bribery, corruption, tax evasion and to prevent the provision of financial and other services to persons who may be subject to economic or trade sanctions, on an on-going basis;
- for prudential and risk management purposes;
- to provide you with any products and services that you request from us; and
- other reasons compatible with the primary purpose.

If is necessary to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose.

4. Legal grounds for using your personal information

Data Protection Legislation permits us to process your personal data in the way that we do because the processing is:

- necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests that we pursue, which are to run and administer the Fund, to discharge our legal obligations, to store and disclose information where necessary and to evaluate, develop and improve our services; or
- necessary for the performance of a contract with you; or
- necessary in order to comply with a legal obligation to which we are subject.

To the extent that we process any special categories of data relating to you for any of the purposes outlined above, we will do so because either: (i) you have given us your explicit consent to process that personal data; (ii) you have made the personal data manifestly public; or (iii) the processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

5. Providing your information to third parties

The following categories of recipients may receive your personal information and process it for the purposes outlined in this Privacy Policy:

- third parties such as auditors, regulatory authorities and technology providers, agents, contractors, service providers or related companies (including payment processors) if this is necessary to administer your investment in the Company, respond to your enquiries or for any other related purposes;
- any regulatory, supervisory or governmental authorities to the extent we are required by law to do so, or in other limited circumstances (for example if required by a court order or regulatory authority, or if we believe that such action is necessary to prevent fraud;

The Fund does not undertake marketing activities for third parties, nor does it provide information to third parties for their own marketing purposes.

6. Transferring data outside of the EEA

Personal data may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area ("EEA") or to countries not regarded by the European Commission as providing an adequate level of data protection. When we, or our permitted third parties, transfer personal information in this manner will ensure that the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards in accordance with Data Protection Legislation.

For the avoidance of doubt, Jersey is regarded by the European Commission as providing an "adequate" level of protection for data protection.

7. Automated processing

We do not carry out automated decision-making or profiling.

8. Your rights

At any time, you have the right:

- to be informed about the processing of your personal data (i.e. for what purposes, what types, to what recipients it is disclosed, storage periods, any third party sources from it was obtained, confirmation of whether we undertake automated decision-making, including profiling, and the logic, significance and envisaged consequences);
- to request access to or a copy of any personal data which we hold about you;
- to rectification of your personal data, if you consider that it is inaccurate;
- to ask us to delete your personal data, if you consider that we do not have the right to hold it;
- to withdraw consent to our processing of your personal data (to the extent such processing is based on previously obtained consent);
- to restrict processing of your personal data;
- to data portability (moving some of your personal data elsewhere) in certain circumstances;
- to object to your personal data being processed in certain circumstances; and
- not to be subject to a decision based on automated processing and to have safeguards put in place if you are being profiled based on your personal data.

Any request for access to or a copy of your personal data must be in writing and we will endeavour to respond within a reasonable period and in any event within one month in compliance with Data Protection Legislation. We will comply with our legal obligations as regards your rights as a data subject.

We will correct any incorrect or incomplete information and will stop processing your personal data, or erase it, where there is no legal reason for us to continue to hold or use that information.

We aim to ensure that the information we hold about you is accurate at all times. To assist us in ensuring that your information is up to date, do let us know if any of your personal details change.

9. How long we keep your information

We will only keep the information we collect about you for as long as required for the purposes set out in this Privacy Policy or as required to comply with any legal obligations to which we are subject being the longest of the following periods:

- a minimum of ten years;
- as long as is necessary for the relevant activity or as long as is set out in any relevant agreement you enter into with the Company;
- the length of time it is reasonable to keep records to demonstrate compliance with professional or legal obligations;
- any retention period that is required by law; or
- the end of the period in which litigation or investigations might arise in respect of an investment in the Company.

This will involve us regularly reviewing our files to check that information is accurate, up-to-date and still required.

10. How we protect your information

We ensure that there are appropriate technical, physical, electronic, and administrative safeguards in place to protect your personal details from unauthorised access.

11. Changes to Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy may be amended from time to time without notice, in which case the date of this Privacy Policy will be revised.

If our Privacy Policy changes in any way, we will place an updated version on this page. Regularly reviewing this page ensures that you are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it and under what circumstances, if any, we will share it with other parties.
